PRIVACY POLICY

Fairlane Investment Advisors, Inc. (FIAI) has always considered the protection and safeguarding of sensitive information to be the foundation of a client relationship. FIAI utilizes information that you make available in order to provide you with the services and information you require; it is our goal to exceed your expectations. The types of information FIAI may collect during the normal course of business may include: information provided in applications, forms, questionnaires and investment management agreements. This information may be gathered in written or verbal form, dependent upon applicable state and federal laws and regulations. Personal information we may collect could include but is not limited to your name, address, phone number, account information, social security number, employment, assets, income and debt levels; information regarding transactions, accounts, balance information; trading activity and parties to transactions; information from other outside sources, health and beneficiary information, and any other information that is deemed to be nonpublic personal information as defined by Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act and the SEC Privacy Rule (Regulation S-P).

FIAI realizes that providing personal information is an act of trust and we employ extensive information protection controls in keeping with industry standards and practices; and we regularly review and adapt to physical, electronic, and procedural controls in response to changing requirements and advances in technology. We at Fairlane Investment Advisors, Inc. value the trust and confidence placed in our firm and our policy is to protect prospective, current and former clients personal nonpublic information and we will never sell or share nonpublic personal information obtained from clients or their representatives except to facilitate the investment advisory services offered by the Advisor via an unaffiliated financial services provider or unaffiliated administrative services.

We maintain a secure office and computer environment to ensure that your information is not placed at unreasonable risk. We do not provide your personally identifiable information to mailing list vendors or solicitors for any purpose. Personal nonpublic information about you will be maintained and protected during the time you are a client, and for the required time thereafter that such records are required to be maintained by securities laws (five years) and thereafter will be safely destroyed via shredding.

FIAI limits employee access to information only to those advisory personnel who require the information in order to provide products or services to you, regulatory oversight and have signed an acknowledgement of our privacy policies. We may share personal information with the following:

- ? Your Representative, who referred you to us, set up the account, and is servicing the account.
- ? The above Representative's Broker/Dealer Registered Investment Advisor.
- ? Fidelity Investment Brokerage Group and its affiliates for servicing and managing your account.
- ? Orion Advisor Services, LLC to reconcile and archive client data.
- ? ByAllAccounts to retrieve client 401(k) data regarding transactions, accounts, balance information and trading activity.
- ? LiveOffice for retrieving and archiving client electronic mail.
- ? Government agencies and law enforcement officials (for example, the Securities and Exchange Commission who regulates all Registered Investment Advisors, tax reporting, or as required by state or federal law).

Access by the client to your account(s) online via FIAI's website is available only through your request and use of your password on a secure server. Your Representative also has access online requiring a secure password to better serve your investment needs. Fairlane Investment Advisors, Inc. employs a variety of protections to maintain the security of your online session. Through Orion Advisor Services, ByAllAccounts, and LiveOffice we utilize firewall barriers, encryption techniques, and authentication procedures that allow the client to view their account, gather and distribute information privately and securely.
